Chelsea Alexander is called to motivate and inspire others to lead extraordinary lives.

As a speaker, wealth management advisor, mother and volunteer in the Dallas/Fort Worth community, Chelsea helps others feel uplifted and empowered to fulfill their life’s work.

Over the last decade, Chelsea has dedicated her time and energy to personal and corporate finance, with extensive experience in the investment, automotive and mortgage industries. Chelsea prides herself on having an unparalleled intuitive touch and personal relationships with her clients.

Chelsea is a highly sought-after speaker to corporations and professional associations, such as Exxon/XTO, YMCA, TCU, Texas A&M, Merrill Lynch, Mercedes-Benz, Alcon, and The International Association of Administrative Professionals.

She earned a bachelor’s degree in political science with a minor in business from Texas Christian University, where she also served as student body president.

Chelsea serves as a board member of Communities in Schools, the TCU Clark Society, the Women’s Center and TCU AddRan College of Humanities & Sciences. Chelsea also is involved with the United Way Women’s Council and the TCU Britain Society for planned giving.

Chelsea and her husband Ben have a four-year old daughter, Sydney. As a new mom, Chelsea has focused on inviting the young children of many clients to her office to learn the importance of giving, saving and investing.
